NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO MOTHERS.

In a country where the rearing of infants is attended with somewhat exceptional difficulties and risk owing partly to climatic reasons, and partly to the difficulty of getting medical assistance in the 'camp,' an apology is hardly needed for publishing a small hand-book on the subject for the use of mothers. In Dr. Pennel's book on Infant Feeding an attempt has been made to explain in simple terms the reasons on which the various rules and recommendations are based, in order that a mother in modifying her child's diet from time to time as required, may be guided by common sense and not by the hundred and one conflicting counsels, with which she will be assailed. On sale at all bookstalls and libraries.

MONTHLY MAGAZINES are becoming more and more worth reading. The very fact that so many are in the field makes the publishers of them eager to please. We quote The Windsor, Pearson's, The Badminton and Chapman's as instances. Each volume is worth a small library, and we shall be pleased to add as many subscribers as possible to our list. Send your name and address early to Jacobsen's, 499 Florida.

DURING this extraordinary fine summer weather and while the furcoats are still packed down in paper and salt, it is well to remember that a bad cold is equal to a great many miles towards the gates of that eternity for good or evil which awaits us all behind the never-explored mystery of that last grim H. Therefore let us avoid a cold and stick to this world as long as possible forgetting Boer's bankruptcy, Barros Arena border questions and the whole B—hive of bustle and bother by a cup of delicious Mazawettee tea and a handful of Andersen's unrivalled Tit-Bits biscuits, both for sale at the Almacen Ingles, Rivadavia 634.

Montevideo, Dec. 17

The Secretary of the Finance Bureau, Don Eugenio Madalena, had a serious accident yesterday from a collision of his carriage with a tram-car. He was badly but not dangerously injured.

The printers and the proprietors of the anti-Borda organ El Censor could not agree, so this daily will give President Idiarte and Julio a rest until the dissenters come to terms or other printers can be obtained.

Miss Carmen J. Zelaya. daughter of Don Domingo Toro Martinez, brother of Ex-Chilian Cousul Dr. Domingo Toro y Zelaya, died suddenly last night at the Central Hotel from congestion of the brain. This distinguished young lady was here passing the bathers-season with her brother Domingo and her sister Teresa Zelaya.

Our Custom-house will give a cool million gold this month, against nine hundred thousand in January last year, a good yield. If these millions were properly administered what a lovely country this would be.

Rebuchon telegraphed yesterday from Colon at 9.30 p.m. where he arrived with his valet safe and sound: camped and pitched his tent. His march to-day was to Santa Lucia and so on till he sights Brooklyn Bridge.

Minister Moreno and Engineer Kummer embarked to-day in the Sirio.

The appointment of Daniel Muñoz as Minister to Italy and Austria, was sanctioned yesterday by the Chambers.

At Minister Castro's banquet it was proposed seconded and carried unanimously that two of the future docks en partibus bear the names of Kummer and Guerard. A magnificent plan of the projected port, measuring 11 feet by 7 was exhibited by the Minister to the guests on that convivial occasion, which is said to be a work of art prepared by the notable draughtsman Mr. Elena and bearing the signature of Minister Castro, Guerard, Kummer, Tolkmitt, Michaelson and Monteverde. If a plan of the port is all we required, we have got that now and the question of who is to build it is of no consequence. It is rumoured that Luther and Co. are in treaty with Government for the sale of all their machinery and materials employed in the studies of the port, which looks rather fishy and as though they had no intention of continuing the work.

(Per Havas Agency.)

United Kingdom

London, 17th—It is rumoured that the flying squadron will sail for the Bermuda Islands. It is also asserted that the Admiral in command has received orders with regard to the Anglo-Venezuelan Question.

Fresh rumours about Spain's credit are on the tapis. These rumours cause a fall in the quotations of Spanish Bonds.

The Times publishes an article in to-day's issue stating that it is probable that the garrison of Makallé will capitulate.

France

Paris, 17th—It is firmly believed here that Marshal Campos will resign on account of ill health.... He will probably be suceeded by General Weyler, a very able officer.

The Moselle is reported as rising in a very alarming way at Epinal and it is feared it will overflow and inundate the country. The authorities are taking precautions to forestall any disaster.

Germany

Berlin, 17th—The police in Dresden have pounced on a gang of forgers of the notes of the Imperial Bank. Their machinery and plates etc. have been seized. Five of the forgers have been arrested, and the others are being tracked.

The debate on the proposed increase of duty on imported grain, continued to-day and excited warm discussion. Several very violent speeches were delivered causing personal animosity between various members.

The leader of the Polish party Herr Ferdinand Radziwill and also Herr Rudolf von Bennigsen spoke long in opposition of the measure which was eventually thrown out by 219 to 97 votes.

Prince Hohenlohe in a speech loudly applauded presented to-day in the Reichstag the Bill dealing with the new Civil Code, destined to crown the consummation of the Empire.

Austria

Vienna, 17th—It is rumoured that Emperor Francis Joseph intends to appoint Archduke Louis Victor Governor of Bohemia.

Italy

Rome, 17th—Telegrams from Africa confirm the heavy losses sustained by the Abyssinians in their different attacks on Makallé. A detachment of Major Galliano's troops sallied out for fresh water on Tuesday and returned with an abundant supply.

The German Ambassador Count von Bulow visited Signor Crispi to-day and announced to him the despatch from the Emperor William of an autograph letter to King Humbert expressing his Imperial Majesty's admiration for the heroic defence of the Makalle fort and augering a complete triumph for Italian arms in Africa.

The Milan journal Il Secolo publishes to-day a letter from its correspondent in Africa, conceived in an highly pessimistic strain. A resident in Cologne has sent an annonymous present of 5000 ambulances to be forwarded to the Eritrea colony for the use of wounded Italian soldiers.

The despatches from Massauah are of a contradictory nature as it is difficult to make out from them whether Col. Galliano has succeeded, in a temporary or permanent manner, to secure his access to the sources whence the supplies of drinking-water are obtained for the garrison.

Spain

Madrid, 17th—The excitement against Marshal Campos continues. Some state that the Marshall will resign on account of ill health, while others say that the Marshal is disgusted with the Generals under him. It is rumoured that Marshal Campos will have to resign before three days elapse.

Later—There is a rumour that a Cabinet crisis is expected at any moment. A Cabinet Council will take place this afternoon, over which the Queen Regent will preside.

The most contradictory rumours about the Cabinet are afloat. The most general opinion is that there will be only partial changes in it.

The leading members of the Cuban reform party presented to-day to Government a strong protest against the permanence at the head of affairs in Cuba of General Martinez Campos. A Cabinet meeting was hastly summoned presided over by the Queen Regent. It met to-night and at it was accepted the resignation, so often presented, of Marshal Martinez Campos. In his place was appointed as commander-in-chief General Polavieja, who at the head of fresh re-inforcements will shortly leave for Havana.

It is naturally presumed that the acceptance of the resignation and the consequence of the complaints made on the reform-party.

Russia

St. Petersburg, 17th—The Volunteer Fleet Commissioners have decided to order two new cruisers of high speed.

Chile

Valparaiso, 17th—There is a persistent rumour afloat that General Körner will resign his post as Commander-in-Chief of the Army because the Chilian Goverment refuses to mobilize 30,000 National Guards. This is only one of the many plans of General Korner which the Government has refused to listen to.

Two regiments of infantry and one of cavalry will shortly be created.

Minister Guerrero has taken possession of his post.

Mr. Juan Clark is expected here in a few days from Buenos Aires.

Brazil

Rio Janeiro, 17th—The press is calling the Brazilian Government's attention to the bad sanitary condition of the city, and also urges the Government to disinfect the town and port.

Messrs. Azevedo, Matos and Co. wil take over the contract for supplying the city with fresh meat from the 31st of this month.

Exchange on London is quoted at 9 3|16d.

Argentine Republic

Rosario, 17th—Merchants are protesting in vigorous language against the F.C.C.A. which charges $8 a day paid in advance for every loaded waggon,and even with this monstrous charge the waggons are only half loaded. The negligent way in which this railway company treats the public is simply outrageous. The National Railway Board should take severe measures to bring this company to its proper senses.

The Juez de Paz of Jorge will be suspended for outstepping the limits of his post.

The cereal market is the same as on previous days.

THE CLOSURE OF CONGRESS.

There is something very remarkable in the closing of Congress, since it was unattended by any of the usual formalities on such occasions. There was no decree of the President closing the session, no speech from the Minister thanking the Senators and Deputies for their abnegation and patriotism in sitting so long after the legal term of the session prescribed by the Constitution. The session seems to have expired in a sort of fainting fit, since it appears that the Deputies had not only not closed their sittings, but were busily employed in discussing some important measures, when the house adjourned for the usual quarter hour of rest, but that quarter of an hour is destined to hold good for four months, as the Deputies have dispersed, and there is not now in the city a sufficient number to form a quorum.

Such an extraordinary termination of the session may be said to somewhat correspond with the character of its labours since, if we never before had such an unusual wind up, so also have we rarely had a parliamentary term so secret and so sterile.

It has been said by some deep thinkers that a country or a nation always has the Government it deserves, and this doctrine, though harsh enough, has been accepted as so true that it has passed into an aphorism.

The collapse, therefore, of Congress and the rather discreditable wind-up of the session caused by this general skedaddle of both Senators and Deputies may, after all, be only what the country deserves, since, if more care were taken by the people in the election of Congress members, possibly a better or superior class of men would constitute our Parliament and the country would be saved from its present humiliation.

In most countries the character of the people determines the character of its Legislature, but in Argentina it is not so; and indeed judging by the debates in the house, and a short and hurried retrospect of the last session, it is very hard to say what the Argentine Congress does represent.

And the conduct of the Deputies in clearing out in such an extraordinary manner does not correspond with any feature that we know of Argentine character.

It is presumed that the Sugar Bounty Bill was the proximate cause of the whole hegira, and that sooner than pass this monstrous Bill the minority resolved to leave the House without a "quorum," and thus postpone the measure until next session. Some allowance also must be made for the Provincial Deputies, who are so far away from their distant homes and so anxious to return before the summer is over.

A GREAT ANNIVERSARY.

This day twenty-five years ago, in the smoke of the guns from the German batteries and from the ramparts and forts of Paris, representatives of all the German States met in the Gallerie des Glaces of the Palace of Versailles and proclaimed King William of Prussia Emperor of Germany. The sceptre so proudly carried by the Salier, the Franken, the Hohenstaufen, so pusillanimously cast away by a Habsburg in a historic moment of unpardonable weakness, was placed in the hands of the Hohenzollern, the fortunate and heroic descendant of the proud Brandenburger Kurfürst who on the very same day, one hundred and seventy years before, rivetted to his brows the crown of Prussia.

Germans celebrate to-day a national jubilee. The 18th of January of 1871 closed in the history of Germany what may be termed a lengthy interrenum and marked in the history of the world the resumption of the old German Empire tradition—rent asunder by French victories and consolidated after many years by French defeats. That the Fates should have signalled a Hohenzollern for the historic event, not a Habsburg, may be traced to events beyond the control of man, as sincerely believed by the present young Emperor of Germany. But in the eyes of a practical world, making all due allowance for providential influences, the German Empire is the result of a national aspiration personnified in the giant genius of one man—Bismarck. In fact this jubilee celebration by Germans all over the world is the apotheosis of the Man of Blood and Iron,whose name rings through the world like a sledgehammer blow on the mighty anvil of German Unity

The German residents of the Plate celebrate the great anniversary to-day in the Pabellon Argentina with the patriotic enthusiasm so pronounced in all their national feasts. The old site of the Retiro Barracks with its pretty Pavilion will to-night beturned into a piece of Germany on the banks of the Spree or the Rhine. The program is most enticing, and proceedings will begin in the gardens at 8.30 p.m. President Roca will attend.

LETTERS FROM THE RIO SALADO.

VI.

"Rich and rare are the goods in the store
And every day ther' coming more..."
The Metropole's Poet
"Standard" of the 21st Dec. 95.

O! Mr. Fritz! Mr. Fritz! You have much to answer for! I am glad you have eaten too many "tunas" this morning and feel unwell, for I hope it will make "you seriously reflect on the sinfulness of guttling and guzzling."

Thus speaks the skipper in a sad and stern voice, as, sitting in the rain before the fire, we are trying to dry ourselves, the vapour rising in thick clouds from our clothes and mingling with the smoke.

Yesterday the skipper announced, to cheer up the crew under the burning afternoon's sun, that, supposing his reckoning to be correct, we were but a few miles distant from Fortin Hernan Cortez.

There are several such forts along the Rio Salado—F. Aguará, F. Union, F. Hernan Cortez, F. Pizarro, F. Centinela etc,—utterly deserted ruins, with hardly four crumbling walls left standing, half hidden by the invading vegetation. F. Hernan Cortez is among the least decayed. We found in it a small bench which the Grumblers carried off in triumph, glorious to sit down again on a real seat, like gentlemen.

But these ancient strongholds have an interest of another kind for us. When they were built the soldiers surrounded them with hedges of the thorny cactus known as "tuna," as is customary to do in order to repel Indian attacks, and the fruit of these plants is a welcome change in our too nitrogenous daily fare.

Now Mr. Fritz holds this delicacy in high esteem, and when he heard that a short distance separated us from a spot where we should be likely to find a plantation of it, he warmly proposed to push on, although it was late and a storm was evidently brewing.

When we reached the fort darkness had set in, the storm had burst, and rain was pouring down in the style it affects in South America. While the crew was cutting up for supper a "gama" we had killed, the captain lit a fire with great difficulty, then, declaring he would go and fetch more wood, vanished and was seen no more. It was late in the night when by the glare of the lightning, he was spotted out at the bottom of a ditch into which he had fallen, and where, ashamed to cry out, he had whiled away his time by clawing at the sides of the hole, fumbling darkly about in the mud and water at the bottom, and making a lamentable object of himself.

This is why his language is sad and impressive in the morning. We shall have to spend the day in drying ourselves, our furs and in fact almost everything on board.

This is not the first time—nor will it be the last—that I allude to our menu. I make no apology for it, for this hankering after questions gastronomical is noticeable in the writings of most tourists. It is in travel that man is reminded that he is of the flesh, fleshy, and that the soul's wings are apt to moult in such a way that he will surely prefer a fat 'mulita' or 'mataco' to....let us say an eloquent sermon or an amateur concert.

Besides, oh you who have partaken of strange dishes, who have eaten shark, or locusts, or crocodile's tail, did you not feel it your duty to inform your fellowmen of the fact, were it only to teach them what is good, and is not?

It is also an article of faith with travellers to draw a list of the victims they have slain on their way, without forgettin a single one (rather the contrary.) I shall not do so, but some animals here are characteristic, they are, so to speak a feature of the Salado, and I should not forgive myself attempting a description of that river without talking about them.

I have touched some words about nutrias and carpinchos....One word, but one only, about ducks and geese: As far as their numbers go, a collectioner would find himself wallowing in bliss here, so countless are their species. For the first fortnight, almost every duck we killed and we killed many, belonged to a kind we had not seen before.

At every bend of the river mostly stands some melancholic heron, or garza, motionless, seemingly philosophising in deep and dreary meditation, but in reality keenly watching for some fish to pass within reach. It is not difficult to kill that bird, for whilst intent upon the doings of the canoa, it ponders whether it were not advisable to fly away, one of us, by a flank movement, comes unawares from the barranca and brings it down.

We vote that towl deserves the honours of the pot, especially when boiled with rice.

The same may be said of a bird somewhat like a cormorant, the "maca". I do not know its real name, it belongs to the family of the Steganopoda, that is, the web of its feet unites not only the three anterior toes, but the whole four of them.

Wherever a branch of a tree extends close above the surface of the river, you may be sure to see three, four, five or more of these "macas" perched on it in a row, their up right black bodies immoveable, while they patiently watch the water below. They are an easy shot.

It is usual in England not to shoot a bird except on the wing, to give, they say, the poor fellow a chance. We have no such notions of chivalry or mockery, whichever you'll call it; we are like Cromwell in Ireland, we subordinate flimsy principles of honour to the welfare of the host.

Near lagunas often sounds the shriek of the "chara" (Chauna chavarria,) as large as a Turkey, with a song shriller and harsher than a peacock's, though less melodious. Each wing is provided with two sharp spurs, of which the Otterkiller made a painful experience, for, having wounded one of these birds, he innocently went to bag it, and was rewarded by a deep cut in the leg.

We don't like that fowl much. Strange to say, its flesh has exactly the colour and the taste of lean old cow, Such a bird, I am told, is tamed in the Western provinces and kept in the capacity of a sheep-dog for poultry.

Shall I talk about flamingoes, ibis, "spatulas, ajajas, etc," or fishes or tortoises and their eggs, or 'mulitas' and "matacos, gamas", pecaris and ant-eaters?.... Surely you know of them as much as I do, gentlemen! and the STANDARD would think I were "meaandering" even more than does the Rio Salado itself.

As for the large lizard they call "iguana" (though it is not the true, green Brazilian iguana), we made a discovery. It is customary among 'gauchos' to eat only the tail of the animal. But one morning, as I had killed two of them "pour tout potage", I imagined to roast, or rather broil them entire. Since that day we disdain the tail and prefer a joint to it.

I have heard about ants, bees and wasps, who have brought up socialism to a pitch of perfection such as was never even dreamed of by the apostles of the faith. But I did not know that spiders lived in colonies. Yet they do. All along the shores of the river there are immense webs inhabited, each of them by numerous spiders, When the weather is fair, each of these takes it appointed (?) station in the web and watches for mosquitoes, for which we are thankful. When they go to rest, they congregate, clutching at one another with all their legs so as to form an almost solid ball as big as the fist.

They are beautiful spiders, deep black, with white and scarlet markings.

Often, when we walk through the bush we carry over with us portions of colonies. But they are not resentful.

It would have been a treat to be with us to astronomer Lalande, who never saw a spider but he ate it with relish. Here he would have had many a full meal.

THE ASHANTEE WAR.

The following news about Ashantee may interest many of our readers, as there can be little doubt that the whole Ashantee country will be annexed to Cape Coast Castle, and thus a new British territory formed in Africa:

"The Ashantee nation are a high-spirited, brave and intelligent race of negroes, very superior to those along the coast. Both men and women, though as black as any other negroes, are handsomely shaped—often with features of classical regularity, aquiline noses or Grecian foreheads. Persons of the higher classes are very cleanly in their habits, bathing every day and washing themselves with warm water and soap. They sometimes ornament their faces with delicate patterns in green or white paint drawn on the cheeks or temples. The ordinary dress is a simple tunic of some coloured cloth or silk manufactured in the native looms; gold ornaments of various designs are worn and strings of aggry beads which are made of a pebble like agate or cornelian, much ptized in this country.

The head-gear of military officers in full uniform is adorned with a pair of ram's horns, or a bunch of long feathers.

Their houses are commonly built of "swish," or plastered clay put between two frames of stakes and wattles, set apart for the thickness of the wall; the wattles are left on each side embedded in the clay and the wall is very durable. Each end of the house is gabled with three poles set in a triangular position, supporting at the apex from end to end the horizontal ridge-pole upon which is laid the roof sloping to each side; this consists of a thatch of palm leaves on a bamboo framework. The floor, raised several steps, is of stone or hardened clay, and is daily washed and coloured with a pigment of red ochre. The wooden doors, door-posts and lintels, ingeniously carved for decoration, and curious geometrical patterns, are stamped in the plaster in the internal walls; painting and even gilding are also used to ornament the houses of the rich and noble. The King has a stone built house of several apartments erected by Sai Tootoo Quamina, but this is not his usual residence. The Ashantee carpenters, blacksmiths, goldsmiths potters, weavers, dyers and tanners were less skilful than the artisans of Dagwumba and the Houssas, but they have improved by the example of foreign workmen. more especially of the Mohammedans, who come from Soudan as traders or settlers at Coomassie. Specimens of the native manufacture are to be seen in the British Museum. The food of the richer class of people is usually soup made of beef or mutton, fish or fowl, and ground nuts stewed in the blood of sheep, or ox, or calf, with yams and plantains and roasted corn. The poor people will eat monkey's flesh or make their meal of a piece of dried venison, with palm oil. They drink palm wine both fresh and sour and a kind of beer made from dried corn. But there is a peculiar superstition by which many families are prohibited the use of certain meats, so that one may eat no beef while another must not touch pork, mutton or chicken. In like manner many families observe as sacred particular days of the week, the Tuesday or the Saturday for instance; or they are forbidden to wear clothes of a certain colour. These hereditary traditions cause much diversity of manners among the people. They are fond of dancing, mimicry, narrative speeches and songs, also of music. Among their instruments, are the sanko a kind of guitar; the bentwa harp held between the teeth and twanged with a short rod; a rude sort of violin played with a bow; their ivory horns formed of elephants tusks pierced with holes for the graduated notes; their drums of hollowed wood having a skin fixed across the open top; and several other instruments besides gongs and castanets to make an extra noise. The tuneful flourishes upon the horns are known to be associated with the chanting of particular sentences or phrases to the same tune. They serve in this way for signals and orders, or to proclaim the titles and prerogatives of the King and the Princes or great nobles of Ashantee.

THE ALZAGA TRAGEDY.

We have to thank a fair subscriber for the following respecting the Alzaga tragedy to referred the other day:—

One summer evening Felicita, one of Mr. Guerrero's daughters, was standing at the door of her house in Calle Mejico, when it suddenly began to rain. At this moment a handsome, middle aged gentleman (Martin Alzaga) happened to pass by: seeing the beautiful girl standing at the door he stopped, and making a profound bow asked her could he take shelter from the rain. Miss Guerrero immediately acceded to the stranger's request. At the same time the young girl's mother came forward and asked him to go inside to the general sitting room where the family were assembled. A long conversetion followed in which Mr. Alzaga asked his beautiful companion her name and age. Shortly afterwards he bade Mr. and Mrs' Guerrero good bye, thanking them for the hospitality he had received. Mr. Alzaga made his appearance next days to the surprise of the whole family. In the course of a general conversation, Mr. Alzaga jokingly remarked that he was looking for a wife and also hinted that he was well off. Miss Guerrero laughed at this and at other funny remarks. But the laughter turned into surprise and then astonishment when Mr. Alzaga rose, took off the long gold chain he wore and, stooping over Miss Felicita Guerrero threw it round her neck, telling Mr. and Mrs Guerrero that he had chosen their beautiful and accomplished daughter as his wife. The earnest tones in which Mr. Alzaga uttered these words, his high position in Buenos Aires, backed up by enormous wealth, convinced the girl's parents that he was in earnest, and they consented to the marriage, which took place next day.

A short time passed when Mr. Alzaga died suddenly, leaving a little son. His beautiful young wife went into mourning. She had barely thrown if off when her child, then 4 years of age, died from empacho. Time passed on, but Mrs Alzaga's beauty proved a fatal gift, as she was soon surrounded with admirers. Her two principal suitors were Mr. Ocampo and Mr. Saenz Valiente now married to Miss Lola Urquiza. Mrs. Alzaga became engaged to Mr. Ocampo, and all the preparations for a splendid marriage ceremony were at once begun. But the future husband heard that Saenz Valiente was still paying his intended too many attentions and he therefore called one evening at Mrs. Alzaga's quinta in Barracas, and requested the servant to hand in his card to Mrs. Alzaga, who was at that moment seated in the drawing room talking to her father, mother and several friends whilst waiting for the dinner bell to ring. Her father knew that his daughter did not care very much for her future husband, who had latterly displayed a certain amount of gruffness towards her, and therefore begged, nay implored, Mrs. Alzaga to let him see Mr. Ocampo. The beautiful widow refused and, waving her hand, left the room and entering an adjoining apartment, was confronted by her future husband. Two minutes had not elapsed when the report of two revolver shots rang out; the family and guests rushed into the room and found Mrs. Alzaga lying on the floor with a bullet wound in the region of the heart, whilst Mr. Ocampo was stretched in a corner of the room with a bullet in his chest. Mrs. Alzaga was carried upstairs, where she breathed her last a few minutes later, Mr. Ocampo died whilst being taken to his residence.

Mr. Guerrero then built a chapel in Barracas after his daughter's name, on the very spot where she died. The statue of Mrs. Alzaga and her little son can still be seen in the Felicitas chapel at Barracas.

The magnificent house alongside the Aguila in Calle Florida was built for Mrs. Alzaga. The ceiling of the dining room alone cost £600 and was pulled down and remade three times before it satisfied the taste of the future mistress of the Palace.

Since the last meeting, the Western Railway Company have decided to extend their lines from Trenquelauquen to Toay, and from General Pinto to Villegas. The first-named extension will place the company's land about 18 miles nearer the railway, which will be of some advantage, and any further extension of the line from Villegas should also materially benefit this company. Mr. Shennan, who has just returned from the River Plate, visited Trenel early in October, and inspected the company's property. He found the place in excellent order, and the stock, both sheep and cattle, in first-rate condition and much improved in quality since his previous visit in April, 1893. The profit and loss account for the year shows the result of working the Estancia together with rents received, to be £2,413 8s. 2d., which, after deducting £581 4s. for general expenses and reserves, leaves a net profit of £1,832 4s. 2d. To this has been added the amount brought forward, £8.186 17s. 6d. and £21 1s. 11d. divided on investment in Buenos Aires, making a total of £10,040 3s. 7d. out of which the directors recommend a dividend of 2½ per cent. This will absorb £2,500, leaving £7,540 3s. 7d. to be carried forward.

LATEST FROM THE RIO NEGRO.

Viedma, Jan. 11.

To the Editor of the STANDARD.

Dear Sir,

The young men of Viedma having resolved on presenting a gold plate to Mr George William Humble in honour of his appointment as Governor (pro tem.) of the territory of the Rio Negro, the last night of the year 1895 was the date fixed for the presentation.

Accordingly, at about 10 p.m., a large and select number of the young men of Viedma, accompanied by music and fireworks, proceeded to the residence of his father, Doctor A. G. Humble, and, amid torrents of fervid eloquence, the presentation was made. The utmost harmony prevailed, and refreshments were provided on a liberal scale.

After leaving, the company proceeded to the Government House to salute His Excellency, General Bernal.

On the following night a select ball was given in honour of ex-Governor Humble, so as to give the fair sex of Viedma an opportunity of joining in the general festivities.

The Gold Plate, which is a real work of art, made in Buenos Ayres, bears the following inscription engraven in Spanish:—"A Jorge G. Humble, con motivo de su nombramiento de Gobernador Interino del Territorio, sus amigos le dedican este recuerdo. Viedma, Julio 17 de 1895".

The inhabitants of Viedma and Patagones take a lively interest in the proposed railway extension from Bahia Blanca to Neuquen. The general feeling is that the proposed extension will injure Patagones and Viedma, by diverting the traffic from those towns, and perhaps by leading to the transference of the Capital of the Territory from Viedma to Roca, so that Patagones and Viedma would be left, as it were, out in the cold. The proposal of making a bridge over the Rio Negro, connecting Viedma with Patagones, is regarded with general satisfaction.

The Municipality of Patagones have taken the idea into their heads of converting the old and disused Cemetery into a public garden, and so compelling the friends and relatives to remove the remains of those interred therein! Why not let the dead rest in their graves? Besides, it is very doubtful if trees and plants would grow in the old Cemetery unless continually watered; and, more than that, probably but few persons would care to "pasear" in a place so full of sad recollections. If the idea be carried out, the Municipality of Patagones ought certainly to be presented with a large medal made of leather!

Yours truly,

X. Y. Z.

Government has approved the plans of the Rosario Railway for erecting a tank and steam pump at the Retiro station.

The Minister of the Interior has made official declaration that Toay is the terminal point of the extension from Trenquelauquen granted to the Western Railway.

The Minister of Finance has authorized the Argentine Great Western Railway to sell 200 empty barrels, first paying the duty. This duty is absurd. Why not put a duty on the empty heads that conceived it.

MR. WILSON ON THE ARGENTINE NORTH EASTERN RAILWAY.

At the meeting just held in London, Mr. William Wilson said that he had been asked by the Marquis of Tweeddale to say a few words about his visit to the line. He wished to bear testimony to the devotion of the company's representatives in Buenos Ayres to the interests of the company. Dr. Costa, who possssed a name which had long been honourad, and who was one of the most distinguished of Argentine lawyers, had been working for the Company. Mr. Maschwitz was also a man of great experience, and although he had now retired from business, had occupied very important posts, and he was also devoted to the interests of the Company; and Mr. Lewall had also done good work for them. He was a man of great ability, and a very earnest man. It was a very great pleasure to him (Mr. Wilson) to work with such men. They worked harmoniously together, and did all that was possible in connection with the "ad referendum" agreement. With regard to the merits of the agreement he could no speak, nor was that the meeting nor the time for discussing it. On his visit to the line he received very great attention from Mr. Etkeridge, the acting manager, and Mr. Lyell, the engineer. They took him over the line, and called at the stations, and he (Mr. Wilson) had interviews with the leading inhabitants, and got their views. The line goes through one of the richest districts of the Argentine Republic. It was the district chosen by the Jesuits in the olden time, and the Jesuits did not usually choose the worst parts for their settlements. Owing to the disturbed state of the country for many years, it had become to a great extent depopulated. It was now very sparsely populated; and unfortunately for the railway the land was in the hands of large proprietors. Just after leaving Monte Caseros the line goes through a block of land belonging to one man 14 square leagues or 140 square miles in extent. This, of course, was a disadvantage. At the same time the land was well adapted for colonization, and if colonies were started the company would at once begin to find a difference in its traffic. That the proprietors would find it to their advantage to start colonies before very long one could have little doubt. Should the present scheme be carried out the line would be exteuded to Santo Tomé, which was a singularly rich district, and had a semi-tropical climate. One might anticipate considerable traffic there, for the bringing down of early products to Buenos Ayres, and with a proper combination of trains and steamers the transit would be very rapid. If the arrangement was carried out, the gap between Mercedes and Salederos would be filled up. That would give the company through communication from Corrientes, a very important centre; and as to go from Corrientes to Buenos Ayres required three days, and a day would be saved by going over this Company's line, the chances were they would have a large passenger traffic. They could not say so much about the goods traffic because from Corrientes to Buenos Ayres there was water carriage; still a certain quantity of goods would no doubt go over that line. He believed that in time the line would give good results, bu some time must elapse before it could give any great resutts.

On the motion of Mr. Michael, seconded by Mr. G. Pietsch, the Marquess of Tweeddale was re-elected a director; and, on the motion of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. G. Pietsch, Mr. William Wilson was also re-elected to a seat at the board. The auditors, Messrs. Deloitte, Dever, Griffiths and Co., were re-appointed, and the proceedings terminated with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

There was a summer drowsiness about local affairs in general yesterday in spite of the lingering echoes of the "clangor tubarum" of the previous few days; and but for the Cubans and our Abyssinia countryman McKinnon, there would have been no hot news to help old Sol to put us all in a healthy perspiration. The telegrams from the "Pearl of the Antilles" represent Spain's handy man of all work, old Campos, as completely played out, and the Royal cause on its last legs, as the rebs have surrounded Havana. As for McKinnon, he has beleaguered Makalle with his hordes, and Major Galleano and his brave little garrison are "up a tree" and will have to lay down their arms and surrender. Moses in Egypt was never in a worse fix fix than "Gli Italiani in Africa" are at present. In English and North American quarters the question was as to what Lord Salisbury is up to in sending the tremendous new Flying Squadron to the "Bermoothes?" Is there still a hole in the Venezuela ballad? May the Pilgrim Fathers forbid!

We salute our German friends on their patriotic racket to-day, and hope they will enjoy themselves, as they generally contrive to do right heartily on such occasions. The Argentine Pavilion is the scene of jollification, and "the feast of reason and flow of soul"—and of something far more palatable and inspiriting—will begin at 8.30 p.m. Most of the German houses intend to take a holiday, as far as possible, in honour of the great anniversary.

The favorite old National transport Villarino leaves to-day from the Darsena Sur for Patagones, under command of Teniente de Navio Calderon. She takes the 8th Battalion of the Line, some 500 men, with wives and children. The departure of the transport for what may be termed our old "querencia" revives memories of the days of Villegas when Patagones was in its glory. The very dogs of Patagones will bark with delight when they see the old steamer. We advise Colonel Garcia, Chief of the Naval Staff to make all national transports call at Patagones on their voyages down South, for the steamer service to-day is so execrable that owners of estancias in the Rio Negro territory cannot visit their estates. The business would be lucrative one for the transports and would be a godsend for the settlers. Should the Villarino encounter foul weather and be unable to cross the Rio Negro bar, Captain Calderon need only turn her nose and steam into San Blas Bay. He is one of the few officers in the Navy who know the Bahia San Blas perfectly. The steamer Litoral in her last trip to Patagones encountered such a fall that she put into San Blas for two days.

There is joy in fashionable Israel and corn in Egypt yet. The Committee of the Progreso Club have resolved to give one Carnival ball—perhaps two—in the Argentine Pavilion.

Another treat in store for those who prefer their music smoked and moistened. On Saturday the 25th inst. a Smoking Concert in aid of the British and American Benevolent Society, at the Eden Theatre, Bon Marché buildings. The following gentlemen have kindly consented to take part:—Messrs. Crowe, Courtés, Greenlees, Harrison, Holtum, Lee, Leslie, Wilson, Magrane, Morgan, Permain, Robinson, Sams and H. C. Thompson.

We were wrong in saying above that the Cubans and Italians in Africa were the only fellows kind enough to throw us into a cold perspiration yesterday. The rumour from Chile of General Korner's resignation made several people jump and then call for a hot drink. It appears that the imported Moltke on the West Coast is disgusted at none of his proposed measures being carried out, and he threatens to resign if he be not given a free hand. Affairs in Chile do not seem to be at all in that wonderful order for which the friends of the Greeks of South America are so fond of giving them credit.

We call the attention of our matron-readers to Dr. Pennell's book on "Infant Feeding," English mothers will find the volume of great use to them.

Dr. Quirno Costa, Argentine Minister in Chile, left last night "en route" for his Legation in Santiago. We wish him a pleasant jonrney. No diplomatist in South America has crossed the Andes so often in discharge of his mission as Dr. Costa, and its peaks and precipices must be as familiar to him as the shops in Calle Florida.

Yellow fever is rousing up at Rio in an ugly way, and at any moment the name of "Caso Sospechoso" Esq. may appear in the passenger lists of the steamers from that most unhealthy port.

The news from Mar del Plata in some of our contemporaries is estatic. The amusement of the golden youth, there now is shooting "chorlos." and 700 of the birds were butchered the other day by half a dozen of these young fellows. How unsportsmanlike! Is this not the close season?

There is tremendous activity in the War Office, and the "costureras" have their hands full. Fifty thousand National Guard and Line uniforms have to be ready before the Ides of March.

Oh! The Brazilian drum is rolling now. The ex-empire has ordered six cruisers in Italy so much for the recent "commercial" treaty with Chile.

El Argentino is still belabouring the National Lottery with a big stick. Thanks to the revelations of our colleague the public can now see how scandalous the abuses have been. For many months past there have been serious rumours that the Lottery is not fairly drawn, and it behooves the new Commissioners to probe the matter to the bottom.

Naval Captains Lawry and Lartigue have been respectively named President and Fiscal of the Court Martial that is to try Lieutenant Thorne, the second in command of the 25 de Mayo.

The Government accepted yesterday the resignation of Mr. Francisco B. Madero as a member of the Lottery Board.

Police-Magistrate Navarro has at least decided that the time has lapsed; prescribed by the Criminal Code, for the prosecution of ex-Lord Mayor Seeber accused of having in 1889 advanced a large sum of money without proper authorization to various contractors executing work for the Municipality.

The body of a decently dressed man was yesterday found lying in a piece of waste land in Barracas, near the road to the Alsina bridge with a bullet-wound in the head. As no fire-arm was to be seen in the vicinity of the corpse, it is presumed that the deceased is the victim of a crime.—Nothing more probable.

We are shocked. A Christian turning Turk! Oh! And for the same cause that upset the St. Simonians, as so graphically described in 'Scaevola's' letter from Paris yesterday. It was recently announced that a prominent European gentleman in Ceylon had become a convert to Islam. According to the Colombo papers, this person has since declared his intention of taking advantage of the privileges of the Mohammedan faith to contract a polygamous marriage with a daughter of a European official, despite the fact that he has one wife already. One journal states that several other prominent residents of the Island contemplate following the example. A nice lot of exiled Britishers they must be; but this is not the first time we have heard of the shady moral character of Ceylon, which, if it were in want of a situation with any other Power, would be quite unable to coax "buenas recomendaciones" out of its present master.

If the sand continue to silt up on this side of the Parana for a few years more, as it most certainly will, the Madero and La Plata ports will be snuffed out by the new port at Montevideo, unless Government has the common sense to fall back on the only scheme that can save the port of this city, viz: Mr. Horace Wheeler's plan of "wings" to confine the current which has proved such a great success on the Mississippi. In the new port at Montevideo the darsena walls will be 8 metres (26 ½ feet) deep in ordinary low water. There has been adapted as term of comparison the O (zero) of the English charts, which represents the lowest ordinary tides, and with relation to this the port will have, at such tides, a depth of 7 mts. or 23 ft., and in 25 ft. in ordinary low water. Consequently the depth of the port will always exceed the minimum established in the port law, and will suffice for vessels of the deepest draught.

An epidemic of stamps—"Julepis stampis" as our late lamented colleague, Hector Varela (Q. E. P. D.) would have designated it. Some years ago there was an outbreak of 'snow-ball' letters, as they were called, in various parts of England. People were requested to make copies of a letter and give to friends, but the contributions asked for were unused stamps in varying numbers. This fashion, started in aid of bazaars and other charities, had a brief vogue and died a very natural death. But at least the request made was comprehensible. In the case of the American 'chain letter' there is not even this to be said. A correspondent of the Times, in the course of a humorous article, describes a case in which the daughter of the blacksmith of Kaneville, Illinois, Miss Mattie E. Garman. is a cripple. Some time last year a friend of hers. a girl named Edna R. Brown, determined, however, to make some attempt to assist Miss Garman by collecting a million stamps. Such a collection Miss Brown fancied could be sold for a hundred dollars. which sum would pay for a doctor's advice. With the assistance of a friend in New York she thereupon started the chain of letters, which has since grown to so stupendous a size that the Post Office officials of America are at their wits' end to cope with it. The chain started in September, 1894, and within a month letters containing stamps began to pour in upon unpretending and stupefied Kaneville, increasing in number week by week until now over 6000 arrive a day. They come from Russia, Germany, Denmark, Holland, Italy, Spain, India, China. Japan, South and Central America, and especially England and Scotland. It is the most gigantic thing in the way of correspondence the world has ever heard of; its originator receives more letters in a day or week than any other person on earth receives or ever did receive. She herself is powerless to stop the flow, the United States postal authorities can do nothing, and still the letters stream in." To-morrow we will give the description of the awful state to which Kaneville is reduced by Miss Edna Brown's postage stamp philanthropy. It is side-splitting.

The Montevideo Times gives the following curious piece of news:—"There has been an invasion of bed-mattresses on the South coast of the city, and they have been eagerly gathered up by the neighbours of that district. At first it was thought they came from some wreck, but now it has been ascertained that they were thrown overboad by a vessel from Europe on account of a pest among the 3rd-class passengers! It is to be hoped their immersion has effectually disinfected them, or the consequences may be unpleasant to their new owners."

The Peruvians are a trifle behind the age in their ideas of religious freedom. The Mayor of the town of San Miguel gave the fanatical inhabitants a treat the other day by making an "auto da fé" in the Plaza of a cargo of Bibles seized in the possession of an agent of The American Bible Society. The luck is that the agent was n't turned into smoke as well as his Bibles.

In "Mc Clure' Magazine" we find the following story of the late General Grant, when he was only a Captain and looking for employment at the beginning of the great Civil War:—"Upon him the Adjutant-General also put the critical eye, when Grant applied to him, and seemed, like all the others, disposed to measure the unassuming man by his clothes rather than by his record and intelligence. He, too, said: "Well, I don't know that there is anything you can do to help us. We are pretty well organized. "But, he added, hold on, you must know how to rule blanks for the making out of such reports as we make up. You certainly learned how to do that when you were in the army." "O, yes," replied Captain Grant "I know how those blanks should be ruled." "Well, you see," continued the Adjutant-General, "we are short of these blanks. The department at Washington cannot forward us them printed as fast as we need, the demand is so great, I think I'll set you to work ruling blanks. You may come around to-morrow". Captain Grant came, according to appointment, and paper, ink and pen, with ruler, were given to him. But he was not permitted to leave the desk in the room where most of the clerks of the Adjutant-General worked. That was a room well carpeted; a room with handsome desks and other convenient and comfortable furniture. Just outside of it was a little ante-room, where the floor was bare, and the only furniture was a plain table and a hard bottomed chair. There they put Captain Grant and set him to work ruling blanks; and thus, in that humblest of clerical work, he who was a few years later to command all its armies, and finally to rule the Nation, began his formal service in the war".

A Rosario subscriber who paid us a flying visit yesterday says that business there is as dull as ditch water. In Beotia the farmers are all in rather poor spirits. All round, thirty-per cent. of the wheat crop has vanished under the united efforts of the triple alliance of hail, rain and locusts.

Among the writers of to-day, Anthony Hope is takiug up a well-deserved position. The Westminster Gazette brought out his Dolly Dialogues in short instalments some time ago, and these alone are sufficient to mark Mr. Hope as one of the smartest of smart writers. Our friend Jacobsen has favored us with a copy of these Dialogues, issued in book form, and he tells us he has a number of them for sale, The volumes are cheap, paper cover editions and should sell like ripe cherries, Jacobsen's the man.

A kind subscriber at Frias has favoured us with the following laughable paragraph from the Western Weekly News. We have often to allude to the stupendous ignorance of the French Press in reference to things English, but this takes the cake:—For a comic account of the recent Balfour trial it would be difficult to beat the following from a Lyons paper:—"Jabez Balfour, who has been convicted of fraud, is related to Lord Arthur Balfour, leader of the House of Commons, and Duke Salisbury, the Prime Minister. On account of his rank, the convict will most likely be imprisoned in the Tower of London, which for many hundreds of years has been reserved as the gaol for breakers of the law among the nobility of England."

There seems to be considerable difference of opinion as to the one and undivisable Corso decreed by the Lord Mayor for Carnival. Some of our colleagues speak as disrespectfully of it as if it were the North Pole, and call it a "mamarracho, "mojiganga." etc. It would be better, we opine, to let the citizens have as many Corsos as they please; the population is the most orderly and urbane of any city in the world, and there is no danger of disorder, as there is absolutely none of the "rough" element which is the bane of European and North American cities.

South American patriots are quite as good, but no better in some ways than patriots in any other part of the globe; but they lick all others hollow in the original and humorous way they have of expressing their love for their native land Lately, we have had here as an instance the late Mr. John Anchorena's eccentric and quite impossible will. In Caracas last month a patriotic nabob put a notice in the papers warning his English friends against saluting him in the street or visiting him, as life would be made unpleasant for them if they attemptek it. Yesterday the funny announcement was made that Messrs John Tellez and sons of Ororu have published in the papers there their intention of renouncing their nationality, selling all their property and going to Peru to become citizens there, as they consider Bolivia basely sold to Chile by the recent treaty.

Poor Perú has now been bitten with the armed peace mania. As the Government hasn't a red cent, the Lord Mayor of Lima has started and patriotically headed a public subscription to buy an ironclad. What folly!

Gold Premium.

FIRST RING 229.60%
SECOND RING..... 228.70%

It is quite evident that the supply of cash gold is growing at the ring. Day after day very large amounts are flung on the market, and it is strange that the premium does not break under the pressure. Those who take the trouble to peruse the lengthy column of shipments of produce which we publish daily under Shipping News can get an idea of all the produce gold that must be steadily coming upon the market. By that list we see the extraordinary movement going on in the docks, Basin, and in the Riachuelo, and the wonder is that with such an export trade the supply of produce gold does not run higher.

If the supply is great, the demand is quite as steady. Every Saturday we see a withdrawal of half a million dollars from the liquidator's counter; at the fortnightly settlement on the 15th inst. another half million was picked up. There appears to be no lack of paper money at present rates to rake in all the gold offered. To-day half a million gold changed hands for cash; the premium opened at 229.50 %, rose to 229.80%, and closed at 229.60%. Two hundred thousand dollars were sold for the end of the month; the premium opened at 230.50%, fell to 230%, and closed at 230.50%. Business for the end of February embraced one hundred thousand dollars; the premium opened at 232.50%, rose to 233%, and closed at 232.50. Something was done for the end of March at 235%. The market closed with a steady feeling.

National Cedulas F were a shade weaker at 79. National Cedulas E changed hends at 90. La Plata Cedulas fell to 17.60. Internal Bonds were quoted at 76, Funded Bonds of the Floating Debt at 77.20, and Catalinas shares at 3.20 and 3.30.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

$ 188,000 January 31st at 330.50-30-330--330.50-20-50.
$ 110,000 January 18th at 329.50-329.60-50-60-80-70-50-60.
$ 30,000 January 20th at 329.70-60.
$ 32,000 January 25th at 329.80-330-329 90-330.
$ 25,000 February 15th at 331.50.
$ 120,000 February 29th at 332.50-333-332.50-60-50.

$ 940,500

National Hypothecary Cedulas—
For cash..F 21,500 at 79.00.
For cash..E 1,000 at 90.00.
Provincial Hypothecary Cedulas—
For cash.. 8% 27,000 at 17.60.
Internal Bonds 1892—
For cash.. 1,600 at 76.00.
Funded Bonds of the Floating Debt—
For cash.. 1,000 at 77.20.
Catalinas Moles—
For cash.. 400 at 3.20-30.

Value of gold coins in moneda legal according to closing gold quotations of first ring:—

OUNCE =..... 53.64m/n
SOVEREIGN=..... 16.61m/n

A "caucion" of 450,000 La Plata Cedulas was effected to-day in one of the banks at 10 per cent quotation of the stock. Paper money continues in sharp demand at 8% and shows no tendency to relax. The demand for gold is quite nominal at 7%, yet holders of gold do not let go and hang on by their teeth to their specie and continue paying a stiff price in the operation.

This was a dull day in exchange circles and ready bills were not superabundant. Forward exchange was easier. Sterling bills were quite nominal at 48¼ d., francs at 5.09 to 5.10 on France and Belgium, and marks at 4.12½ on Germany.

Telegrams from London to-day quoted an easier money market at 1¼ %. Argentine Funding Bonds which had risen so fast fell ¼, back to 75.

Telegrams from Rio Janeiro this evening quoted the exchange rate on London at 9 3/16 d.

Fresh shipments of gold from England to the Plate were cabled to-day, about two hundred thousand sovereigns coming out.

Our colleague El Diario let the cat out of the bag to-day and published all the arcana of the Chilian negotiation in London for a loan of £6,000,000 stg. The business may be considered a complete failure, as neither London nor Berlin will go into it. To please the bankers the Chilian Congress reduced the original amount to £4,000,000; now it is reduced again, to £2,000,000, and even in this shape the loan cannot be carried out. The bankers smell a rat.

The minute way or system in which the coast guard system is to be conducted here will cause admiration for simplicity and economy if it turns out all efficacious. In this regard we note that the Finance Minister has asked the Revenue office to name an employee to look after the guano business on the Southern coast, with a view to protecting fiscal interests. Perhaps he will be perched on Monte Hermoso and furnished with a patent, double-barreled, high-pressure telescope with an easy range of Fireland and the Falklands, and a telephone to transmit orders, or perhaps he will be a peripatetic inspector and superintend the loading of guano on the spot. The south coast, however, is a big stretch and will take up all his time, especially if he is not provided with a coadjutor.

The Far South still. The Ushuaia left yesterday for Fireland a full ship, 11 cabin and 24 steerage passengers, the former including Drs. Lahitte and Alboff who go on a scientific exploring expedition, and the latter 20 convicts—9 women and 11 men, who volunteered for the convict station about to be started down south. As we have frequently pointed out, this settlement is an admirable move of the Government to turn a loose element into a useful chanel, and the Governor has very rosney hopes of being able to mould it into a prosperos colony. The Ushuaia will not return. She is to be left below for local service.

After working ourself into a very enthusiastic moral frame of mind over the alluring picture of the abandoned criminal regretting the evil of his ways and turning mind and hands to a sounder, more moral and more useful occupation, civilizing the aborigine, making up the wilderness and peopling the frontier—the picture has been rudely shattered. The volunteers repented of their good resolutions just as the anchor was being catted, and turned the Ushuaia into a bedlam, with the result that they were all marched ashore again. Argentine convicts must be an incorrigible lot, surely, and it was grossly inconsiderate of them to allow such golden hopes to be built up only to be dashed again to the ground. It seems a hopeless case.

Mr. J. J. S. Russell, son of the late Mr. J. G. Russell, has applied to the Courts to be allowed to intervene in the probate to the estate of his father the assets of which are stated at 300,000$, including several city properties, camp in the partido of Pila and province of Santa Fé, one hundred and odd thousand dollars in Dock Sud shares, also some cedulas and Brazilian mining shares.

Tandil advices report camps and animals in splendid order and harvesting just started. The crops promise a fine yield.

Closing the accounts of the Province of Bs. As. for 1895 has been a more cheerful business than for many years past, as after paying all ordinary expenditure there was still something over, nearly 1¼ million of dollars and considerably over ¾ of a millions in bonds, which certainly looks as if the clouds were clearing. The revenue calculated for 1895 was $10,756,028 and the receipts amounted to $11,352,737, so that there was a superavit of $596,700. Whilst the expenditure calculated at $ 9,644.077 only consumed in reality $8,792,417, shewing an economy of $851,659 This prudent administrative system in straitened circumstances of economizing in the expenses and under-estimating the revenue is beginning to shew the results expected, in spite of the fact that several of the items of revenue have shewn a falling off as compared with other years, the main delinquent in this line being the Telegraph Department. On the other hand the stamp duties, port dues, licenses and land tax all shew a notable increase, particularly the latter, which returned a million over the estimates. The following are the salient figures of the accounts:—

Revenue		11,412,597
Expended in seme		59,860
Net revenue		11,352,737
Calculated		10,756.028
Superavit		596,709
Expenditure calculated		9,644,077
Actually expended	8,953.241
Returned	160,825	8,792,418
Economised		851,659

The expenditure not set forth in the budget is set down at $2,016,276 and for special laws (charged to budget) $210,974.

The principal items of revenue were as follows:—

	Collected	Estimated
Land tax	3,481,656	2,662,390
Port dues	613,098	600,000
Stamp duties	4,263.416	3,800,000
Licences	1,416,780	1,105,000

The South American Bank Note Co., which paid very nearly a total penalty to the Fire Fiend a) short time ago, handed round circulars to-day advising its large circle of customers that every department of its big business is in full swing and working order except the type foundry, and this will soon, it is announced, be also on its legs repolished, refitted and as juvenile and buoyant as ever. The Company has, therefore, let no grass luxuriate under its feet. As soon as a correct estimate of the property in paper, material, etc., destroyed or damaged was arrived at a cable was promptly despatched home for fresh supplies, a business-like alacrity that speaks well for the management of this business.

The gold speculation was active at the second ring and the premium, in a fit of weakness, dropped gently under 229%. About five hundred thousand dollars were sold, nearly half this amount for delivery to-morrow; the premium opened at 229.50 %, fell steadily, and closed at 228.70¼. Two hundred thousand dollars were sold for the end of the month; the premium opened at 230.20%, fell rapidly, and closed at 229.40%. A small business was done for the end of February, the premium closing at 232¼. National Cedulas F fell to 78.50 and La Plata Cedulas to 17.50.

The following is a summary of the operations effected to-day at the second ring:—

The 47th number of the Produccion Argentina is one mass of interesting matter, in all estancieros will read the review on the camps with pleasure, as it treats on the principal districts in the province. Amongst the other articles we notice an excursion in the Rural Tramway from the Chacarita to Carmen de Arceo. An important item in the "Revista" is the announcement of an auction of milch cows in the establishment of Mr. E. Ramos Mejia by Messrs. Funes and Lagos.

Government has accepted the tender of Messrs. Pertili and Co. to enlarge the pumping house at Puente Chico for $280,000.

The Finance Minister has allowed 155 cases of materials for the Riachuelo dredges and 300 barrels of Portland cement for the Salubrity work, all from England, to be despatched duty free.

The Finance Minister has refused to purchase for coast guard service the small steamer Capitan, patriotically offered to him by Signor R. Giuliani.

The changes proposed by the Engineers' Department in the plans for canalizing the Arroyo Tala in Catamarca have been approved by Government.

The Custom-House receipts to-day were:—

	$ paper	$ gold
Imports and exports to-day	242,614	18,277
Returns of the year up to date	3,265,807	399,898

The Minister of Finance has fixed the price of gold for payment of Custom-dues at 328 for Saturday, January 18th.

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

Bullrich and Co. took in hand to-day a fine stretch of camp in Entre Rios, Department of Villaguay, 6 leagues from the town studded with a perfect forest of valuable timber, which alone, according to the auctioneer, is worth more than the price put to the whole property. The camp is situated on the Arroyo Tigrecito, covers an area of 5899 hectares and is surrounded-ly by the Elia, Diaz, Abella, Velazquez and Smith properties. Put up with reserve of $8 the hectare it was knocked down at this rate to Mr. Antonio Hirnart.

Tattersall's had a big gathering for the sale of the fine batch of rams imported by Don Diego Church, which sold as follows:

PRODUCE MARKETS.

A change came over affairs to-day, the attendance in the various markets and deposits was the largest noticed this month. In a few hours from 800,000 to a million kilos of wool changed hands, the prices were the same, the demand pointed all towards fine merino wools, both German and French artistas operated. It was a piece of luck for consignatarios that these sales took place, as we heard from a good authority that the directors of the Central Market had decided to close its doors to any more produce.

In the 47th number of the Produccion Argentina we see that it is calculated that 60,000,000 kilos have passed through the Central, 9,000,000 more than this time last year. Talking about the Central, we heard that a meeting was held in the Camara Mercantil to discuss the new regulations which some exporters in hides are trying to introduce, the decision arrived at was, that no consignatarios should realize any sale unless it were done according to the old system.

The arrivals in produce were very heavy to-day, in the Central 800,000 kilos of wool were received; the Constitucion received alsoo several consignments, but far below the other market. It is strange that this year the clip in Australia, and the Cape has fallen off whereas ours has increased, the deficit in those two sheepgrowing countries is estimated at 170,000 bales. It is also a well known fact that the number of sheep in the United States has been diminishing rapidly,

Most of the sales made to-day were done by Messrs. Devoto Balbiani and Co., the prices were, some special light cross Lincoln from the South at 11 and 11.50 good classes 10 and 10.50, fine wool 9 and 9.50, mezclas are very low.

As we stated yesterday, the interest for cereals has commenced to diminish, the fall in prices was distinctly marked this morning. Exporters seem to have had their fill of maize, their contracts are pretty well complied with. During the spurt we heard that one firm alone picked up 134,000 bags which were immediately exported to Europe. The demand reached such a point that all parcels were bought up with the exception of the rotten ones. A sale of 1,000 tons in Campana, on board, at 3.20 was reported yesterday. The telegrams from London to-day maintain the usual prices, notwithstanding the enomous sales effected daily; linseed has also improved. Owing to the large arrivals, wheat has run down, for special French and tuselas 7.70 is offered and for barletta 7.20. Linseed is at 10.70 and 10.20, operations were limited, as the arrivals are very reduced. Some parcels are expected shortly: this will tend to give a little more life to the transactions.

From the Rafaela colony we hear that afiairs are not looking as well as was expected, as fast as the corn passes through the threshers, the colonists are obliged to sell to meet their bills, this is rather rough, as they are obliged to let go at very low prices.

The telegram from Europe to Rosario on the slight fall in wheat has left a certain depression on the market. The laxity in operations is put down greatly to exporters refusing to buy before they have finished loading their present cargoes; then the reaping is advancing very slowly, and buyers don't care to make contracts without seeing the parcels. The general and current price is 6.60; 500 tons were sold at 6.65, the wheat was a very superior class; some other parcels fetched up to 6.80 and 6.95, but their transactions do not influence the markets, as everybody knows why these rates are paid. The demand for maize is limited, 3.20 is paid for sound stuff; 3,000 bags good class were sold at 3.05, inferior classes are quoted at 2.50 and 2.60.

Consignatarios can't understand why maize does not command more competition, as the article in Buenos Aires is firm and the sales large.

A certain calmness has come over business in linseed; there is a lot sold, but the parcels are arriving very slowly. Exporters are endeavouring to get in their lots as soon as possible, and this naturally puts a great stop to new contracts. The market prices are 10.60 and 10.70, for lots on hand a little more is paid.

Cereals continue improving in Montevideo, both old and new wheats are stiffly sought for, the price has risen ten cents; the principal sales were: 2,000 bags from San José at 2.25, 1,600 do from Canelones at 2.35 and 2.40; a few other parcels were sold at more or less the same prices. Maize was firm, but the sales were comparatively small: a lot of 253 bags was picked up for "consumo" at 85 cents. Messrs. P. Denis and Co. have sold the jerked-beef of a "faena" of 2,100 animals for Brazil at a reserved price. A few days ago we announced that several important sales of salted hides were on hand; to-day, however, the details were made public. Messrs. Fregeiro, Alciatum and Co. sold from 1,000 to 2,000 salted steer hides of 31.25 kilos at 20 dollars, and Messrs. Arrivillaga and Co. 2,000 do at 20 also, and 1,000 salted cow hides of 23 kilos at 18 dollars the 100 kilos. During the past two weeks the movement in the saladero line was as follows:—10,000 salted hides at prices from $17 to 19.75 and 20, and 1,400 pipes and bordalesas of tallow at 9 and 9.05. The wool markets are now better attended, the demand has also increased, but prices are at a standstill. The principal sales were:—15,000 kilos from Treinte y Tres at 2.30, 8,000 do from Godoy at 2.30 and 2.25, 4,000 do from Chileno at 2.10; the other sales amounted to 38,000 kilos at 2.05, 2.15 and 2.30 per 10 kilos.

THE Directing Committee of the Philantrophic Society of Tailors, established in Buenos Aires, advises tailor hands that the Syndicate Chamber has been established since the 1st of December, with the object of solving any difficulty which may arise between masters and men. Union Telefonica 1036.

"The bright, moving picture of the country's trade, commerce and production on the opening year consoles us with the conviction that its future is superior to human error and independent of individual influence."

The above lines, quoted from THE STANDARD of 3rd inst., are the true expression of our sentiments respecting the present position and expected future of the country, if we are to judge from what has occurred to us, as a minute fraction in its common wealth, during the year that has expired, and the hopeful advent of the new one on which we have entered.

If we take our branch of trade, and instance our business in particular, we have to admit that the prospects as regards the country at large are not at all exaggerated in the transcript we have made us of, as the increase in our concern has been beyond our most sanguine expectations during the old year, and, on the eve of the new one, promise is given of a very satisfactory augmentation.

To keep pace, therefore, with this hopeful state of affairs we have made amp e provision, and our stock, which is always kept in adequate supply, will be periodically increased with every novelty to meet the increasing requirements of the year.

ARRIVALS.

The following vessels arrived in the Roads to-day and were visited by the Port Doctor:—

German ss Itaparica from Hamburg with 29 passengers and general cargo consigned to Delfino.

Brit. ss City of Lincoln from Cardiff in ballast to T. S. Boadle.

Do do Rowton from Santos in ballast to W. Samson and Co.

Do do Ariadne from Montevideo with coal to W. Son and Co.

Do do River Mersey from Rio Janeiro with 22 peons, in ballast to Edwards.

ENTERED.

British ss. City of Lincoln from roads at Dock 3 to load.

Do do Ariadne from roads at Darsena to discharge.

German do Itaparica from roads at Dock 1 to discharge.

Italian bq Rosa from roads at Riachuelo to discharge.

DEPARTURES.

German ss. Campinas from Dock 1 for Rosario to load.

Norwg. bq Sudny from Riachuelo in ballast, f.o.

RIVER STEAMERS.

Saturno from Montevideo and Comercio from Salto and intermediate ports will arrived at the South Basin.

The Eolo from Montevideo and Colon for Salto and intermediate ports will leave to-morrow.

GENERAL.

In Rio on the 14th, 23 deaths occurred from yellow fever.

In the port to-day nothing fresh took place and the Ektos, Rowton and River Mersey will consequently to-morrow be accorded free pratique.

The Oriental Government has given a free hand to the Board of Health to arrange all Sanitary matters, so that the constant misunderstandings with the Oriental Junta de Sanidad may not perhaps be repeated.

The Pacific left Rosario to-day at 3 p.m. for the La Plata port to take in live-stock for account of Messrs Thomas Murray and Co. The Siberian will also leave this port for La Plata early next week to load live-stock for account of the same firm who at the end of the month ship in the cattle ship Iona a lot of nearly 850 steers.

The Zanzibar and Lolulú, drawing respectively 21 and 21 ½ feet, were unable to-day for want of water to enter dock to discharge.

The Bretagne arrived this afternoon in the roads after the departure of the health-officer.

The Tejo for Santos and Cassandra for Hamburg were to-day granted bills-of-health.

The German ss. Falkenburg from Hamburg is to-morrow expected in the roads.

The Queensland should to-morrow or Sunday leave the La Plata port for Liverpool.

The Ester leaves to-morrow for the roads to await orders and the the Saraca for Rosario, also in ballast.

The German Lloyd steamer Pfalz leaves to-day Southampton for Coruña, Vigo and this port with 40 first class passengers.

A mutiny broke out on board the transport Ushuaia on Thursday, while the vessel was on her way from the Darsena to Tierra del Fuego with 11 convicts on board. The mutiny broke out when the vessel reached buoy No. 4 out in the canal, but the determined attitude of the Comprevented the convicts from doing any harm. Ten sailors were sent out to the Uushuaia armed with remington rifles, and six of the convicts were put on board the small steamer Cardiff and brought back to the Penitentiary. They will be sent down by the Villarino which leaves to-morrow. The Ushuaia continued her voyage at 12 o'clock on Thursday.

It is a fortunate thing that the mutiny did not break out on the high sea as the Ushuaia was only manned by a few sailors. If the National Government wants to send convicts down to Tierra del Fuego, it should transport them in proper vessels where they will be safely locked into cells. Let this be a warning. It is rather a cheap one, but nevertheless it suffices.
